The Challenge

With continued growth and more leads coming through the web, BT Contracting Ltd. needed to develop a website. However, as a small business with no full-time administrative staff, the site needed to be easy to maintain and host.

The Solution

Brad enlisted Rogers to help him with his wireless and website needs. Once his business was online, connecting with new and returning customers was a lot easier, thanks to these three key benefits:

“ Our customers have noticed our fast response times and appreciate the level of service Rogers has helped us achieve. ”

1 Take your business online

Now that his business has a Rogers-hosted website, Brad has seen an increase of referrals and first-time customers. The website is easy to maintain and there's always a Rogers customer representative ready to help with any questions. Now, Brad spends more time with new customers and less time worrying about his site.

2 Stay in contact with customers and crew

Brad also has a BlackBerry® device and Rogers wireless plan. As a contractor, he spends his days traveling around to different job sites, his BlackBerry® device makes staying connected easy. Not only can he contact customers, he can be easily reached by his crew.

3 Save time and money

Reduced travel is another benefit Brad's enjoyed because of his BlackBerry® device. Instead of making frequent trips back to his office between job sites, he simply calls in to get the information he needs. Brad never guessed his BlackBerry® device would save him gas money.
